

AGRICULTURAL EDUCATION GRADUATE MAJOR (MS)

---

This program is available at the following location:

- Corvallis

The Department of Agricultural Education, Communication, and Sciences offers coursework that serves teachers and leaders in agriculture.

The Master of Science and Master of Arts in Interdisciplinary Studies degrees may be pursued with an emphasis in leadership, communication, pedagogy, extension, and/or technical agriculture. Candidates work with an advisor to develop programs that meet their specific needs as indicated by their occupational objectives. A person who completes an Agricultural Education master's degree is not solely locked into teaching. Potential occupations also include lobbyist, journalist, and Extension work.

Major Code: 1050

Upon successful completion of the program, students will meet the following learning outcomes:

- Conduct research or produce some other form of creative work.
- Demonstrate mastery of subject material.
- Conduct scholarly or professional activities in an ethical manner.

Students must complete a minimum of 45 credits for the Master of Science. Refer to the department website (<https://agsci.oregonstate.edu/ag-ed/masters-degree-agricultural-education>) for more information.
