THE J.C. BRALY NATURAL HISTORY COLLECTION

Robert T. Mason, Curator

The Natural History Collection includes 550 mounts of birds and mammals in the J.C. Braly Collection. A collection of specimen skins on the first floor is used mainly for teaching. In addition, over 1,000 preserved specimens of amphibians and reptiles from the Pacific Northwest constitute a considerable part of the teaching collection. Location: Cordley Hall.